

NEWRY

— Miss Amy E. Hanscom, Cor. —
Newry assessors have finished the valuation and are waiting for the county tax bill and estimate on State Revenue Sharing before figuring the tax rate.

Quite a lot of valuation was lost because of the new Tree Growth tax law (about $22,000.) but more than made up for it in new valuation, mostly new buildings.

Net gain in valuation for 1973 was $2,500.

More valuation will be lost next year under the tree growth law as we only had to take off 10% this year on that acreage.

Total appropriations for this year were $42,170.92 compared to $40,435.00 for 1972.

$1,000 will be taken from surplus this year to apply to appropriations so there shouldn't be more than one or two mills increase in the tax rate. Last year's rate was .032.

Total valuations, real estate and personal, $1,340,520.

The taxes are usually committed to the collector about May 1. This year it will be late May before the commitment can be made. 2% discount is allowed on taxes paid in 30 days and 6% interest is charged after December 1.

William Gray, Stephen Wight, Frank Lowell, Eleanor Morton and Barbara Vokes have been named to the planning board.

Some new hymnals have been purchased for the church and more are needed. It is hoped some hymnals may be given in memory of a relative or a friend. Anyone interested may contact Mrs. Owen Wight, Newry, Maine 04261; phone 624-2624.

Many thanks from our church to the Otter Young Peoples' Group for the donation of $25.00. A carpet runner has been purchased.

Miss Heidi Bachelder, Telstar Library Club, went to Washington, D. C.

Miss Carol Hayner is spending the week with relatives here. She has as guest Miss Patricia O'Neal, Berwick.

Toni Conrad

Toni Conrad received her nurses training at Rumford Community Hospital. She knew that she wanted to be a nurse, but wasn't sure in what field. Now Toni plans to go to school at Maine Medical Center in Portland, studying X-ray technology. She will begin the two year course June 30.

Toni works part time at Andover Wood Products, making panels, after school and week ends. This is the beginning of her second year here. She also worked at Balsam's in New Hampshire, cooking and as kitchen help.

In her spare time she paints, sews and drives around in her car. She collects horse statues, and has about 15 of them now. Toni's pet mouse has the run of her bedroom, and evidently gets along, or keeps out of the way, of her two St. Bernards.

Toni is a member of the Library and Pop Clubs, and the Varsity Rebels. She was a JV Cheerleader for one year, and played basketball two years. (She also played the part of "Angie" in the Senior Class Play which was presented last month. Toni was the maid who "straightened" the picture on the wall.)

Every summer Toni goes to Nova Scotia with her family to visit relatives. She says she loves it there; it's beautiful, and there is so much to do.

Toni's biggest ambition is to be a mother. She has a sister and two brothers, and is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Conrad, of Andover.

Terry Berryment, Bryant Pond, is a member of CMG, School of Radiological Technology, and will begin August 6 to be an X-ray technician. She participated in the Area Aide Training Program at Rumford Community Hospital, and that the course really helped to prepare her with medical knowledge, being used to the hospital environment and patient nurse relationship. nurses were very nice and helpful, and she especially enjoyed working on the maternity and pediatrics wards. Her two favorite patients were, a small boy in isolation, and "Mildred," who seemed to help Terry as much as Terry helped her.

Terry has been a cheerleader for four years, and was captain this year. She is a member of the Varsity Rebels, GAA, and the National Honor Society. She has been a class officer for the last two years, and was chosen Outstanding Teenager of America. Last year she was one of Telstar's softball team members.

Stock car races are coming up, and Terry plans to be there. She likes to go to the movies, ski, shop, bowl, and play pool. Terry also likes to make whoopee pies, paint, and paper, and babysit "The Boys".

During this month's vacation, Terry is heading for Florida, camping with Belinda and mother, Toni, Ann, and Alice. They plan to stay two weeks and spend some time at Disney World.

Terry lives on "The Patch," in Bryant Pond, with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert "Sonny" Berryment.

— Mrs. Collette Morgan, Corres. —

For weeks my snowshoes had hung in the basement. Until today, April 12, I had no thought of using them again until winter season. However, today I put them on and went for an April jaunt.

Because the pond is open down front and unsafe in other places, I had to stay on this side. So I took the bulldozer road toward the farm fields.

I began to see what the snow had done. Not far from home a gray birch had broken and fallen across the road. I had to go around the top of it so stopped to look at its twigs and winter buds. The branches were short, slender, and somewhat contorted. The head was long, narrow pointed, and open. Although known as the rabble of the birches, they are beautiful in spring. Over the hillside soon there will be their haze of green. They bow, tangle, shed, fall and rot; then send up new shoots for they do not easily give up. They are not welcomed by farmers, do not have the dignity of the white birch but nature's economy needs them for leaf mold in unlikely places.

I had never before snowshoed to music from the trees. The sparrows, so missed during the winter months, had found a few of their old songs; the half liquid ka-chee of the blackbirds by the pond, and the scolding of the robin were along the roadway. I felt sorry for the robin hopping away on that "white stuff" and finding nothing.

Then up from near my feet from a softened greenish spot rose the woodcock. He was probing deeply in the mud for food. The tip of his very long bill is flexible and sensitive enough to enable him to feel and grasp his prey. Away he flew in his customary straight line several yards then waited again for my approach. This time as I came near he tread his feet and crouched a bit several times before he again flew; his whistle in tune.

Phoebe who has been back for several days added his brusque song of two or three notes as he swung on the dead outer branches of his lookout post.

Above and all around, the wind added its whoop and roar as it buffeted and blustered its way through the trees and down the valleys, from the north west and chilly. To add to all this, there was the tinkle of the tiny brooks racing . . . hurrying to the pond.

I turned right to take the old mountain lane. In places there were nearly perfect tracks of man; made by the snow "plopping" from limbs above.

A sure track was that of the fox. He had come from far down the hill. I started a partridge from over the wall. I wondered if he were looking for a favorite drumming log or rock for an early April morning soon for a beating of wings.

At the top of the hill I viewed, which I have done so many, many times, the mountains. There as always, they stood rising out of the blue haze of distance. Sometimes thought of as wrinkles on earth's forehead; they are stupendous and beyond easy comprehension. Young or old we are drawn back to them again and again.

A spot in the sky, high up, attracted my attention; a hawk sailing through the air just for the joy of it. Sometimes it flapped its wings as if they were spreads of paper. Then it soared closer and I could see it was a red tailed hawk. It sank slowly with wings outspread, and rested for a long half minute in mid air. Again it sailed out.

wings moving, sometimes resembling the winging of a butterfly. I watched until it took off abandoning the fields and flying south, far out, just a spot over a forested world.

Turning now down the hill through the trees, I stopped beneath a hemlock. This the tree of the ages, grows slowly; its cones, needles, and timber have been found in America's early geological strata so is of ancient lineage.

Arriving again at my starting point, the black ducks were discussing nesting places or whatever ducks do discuss.

Going to the basement I again replaced my snowshoes. Dare I hope that spring is here this time?

AriensWHAT
A WAY TO HOE!

Flower and vegetable gardening can be back-breaking work what with all the spading, cultivating, aerating and composting that is required. On the other hand, it can be a very rewarding and relaxing hobby with the help of an Ariens Tiller.

Ariens, America's first garden tiller manufacturer, offers three styles of rugged tillers—the gear-drive Jet and Rackets and a brand new chain-drive model. Powered with engines ranging from 3 HP to 7 HP, some models feature two speeds adjustable and reverse and the popular side-to-side adjustable handlebars to avoid walking in tilted soil.

When you add up all the features of Ariens Tillers and compare performance you're bound to say—"What A Way To Hoe!"

FROM THE GREENWOOD TOWN OFFICE

We are taking this opportunity once a month to report to you any news of interest coming from the Greenwood town office. In this way, we hope all taxpayers will benefit from any information we have.

We meet each Tuesday evening in the office from 7-9 and invite you to come in if you have any questions. This is your opportunity to discuss any problems you may have in regard to town affairs.

We have selected Third Selectman Kenneth Roberts as our Chairman.

The mapping contract for the Town of Greenwood was awarded to John O'Donnell and Associates Auburn.

This work will begin hopefully, the first of May to be finished by next year to be used for 1974 tax purposes. We have received the Federal Revenue Sharing check for the first three months of 1973 in the amount of $5,236.

All woodland owners in the Town have been notified of the Maine Tree Growth Tax Law. All owners of 500 or more acres in one parcel are required to apply under this law; others may do so by option.

We have started assessing and hope to contact all resident taxpayers this year.

Herbert Dunham
Second Selectman

Editorial Comment

Public Apathy
Legislative Cop-Out

Recent word out of Augusta is that "because of public apathy" it is unlikely that tax reform will be passed by the current Legislature. Are the members of that august body unable to enact legislation on their own initiative? Must they be forever prodded by the citizens to do their job?

Supporters of the income tax when it was upheld in a referendum a few years ago were of the opinion that it might be a step toward genuine reform of the system of taxation in the state. Opponents at that time suggested that a retention of the income levy at the state level would delay interminably a wholehearted effort for reform. It begins to look like the latter were correct.

Admittedly support of reform in many sections of Maine stems from a desire to relieve the burden the property taxpayer pays to support public education. Municipalities with a high per-pupil valuation for tax purposes are generally opposed to tax reform that would cost them more money to benefit "poor" areas.

Did the legislature cry for public support for the melange of bills already approved this session? Case in point: Sunday sale of liquor in retail outlets; Was there really an outcry from the "folks back home" to enact this? Of course, this isn't a fair comparison because each municipality's voters will have to vote on "Sunday sales" as a local option question in November of 1974.

Perhaps more legislators should take a lesson from the 19th century politician, John Calhoun, who paid little attention to pleas to vote this way or that, preferring to vote his own convictions. If his constituents did not agree they could elect someone else next time. Someone once said, "a statesman thinks of the next generation, a politician of the next election."

Most of the legislators realize that the time has come for meaningful reform, especially in regard to paying for the schools of the state. If like Pavlov's dogs, they will only react to a specific stimuli to do a certain thing, the citizens have no alternative but to let their state representatives and state senators know their opinions on tax reform, and prod them to do some of the things they were sent to Augusta to do.

Of course, there is always the danger that any tax reform legislation passed will create more problems than it solves. After all, most of the laws ever enacted are the result of the feeble attempt of the human race to enforce the Golden Rule and the Ten Commandments. —JJB

Letters to the Editor

April 17, 1973

To The Editor:

First I would like to thank you for printing my letter in last week's edition. I have had many responses all good.

Would you please indulge me once more?

As you know from a previous article that we hired a well known person to be our moderator at a town meeting.

I keep going over and over the meeting—those challenged were really "bug" me.

Art. 14: To see if the town would negotiate the sale of our school.

The moderator asked for a written ballot. All 18 of us voted. He (the moderator) announced the outcome of the vote. I then asked him if this was the time to challenge. He told me "yes".

I then challenged one of the lecterns. I gave his name, I named an my reason for the challenge. The moderator wrote all the information on a slip of paper and gave it to the clerk to record. I then voted followed the same procedure.

We finished the meeting not being said about those challenged votes. We adjourned (sine die).

I then went up to the moderator and asked him about those challenged votes. Now dear reader hear this he told me then that should have challenged before we cast our ballots. Why didn't he ask him an hour before when he asked him the first time? Why he go the whole procedure of recording the information etc. If he had told me "no" before I and other voter would not have had to commit myself.

I now have three questions I would like to ask you.

1. For what reason can be a vote be challenged?

2. When is the time to challenge?

3. Procedure in taking care of challenged vote?

I had read the moderator's manual (page 7-4). Evidently it does mean what it says or I interpreted all wrong.

If anyone has the answers to the above questions would you please answer by way of this column? I'm sure many others, would be most grateful.

Thank you much.
Virginia Williamson

KIMBALLS PLAN '73 REUNION

On April 6, officers, state chairman and other committee members of the Kimball Family Association, Inc., met in the Dustin Room, N. H. Highway Motel, Concord, N. H., to plan the 1973 Reunion to be held Saturday, Aug. 18.

President John Hancock Kimball, Lynnfield, Mass., presided. The reunion place chosen is the Gunstock Mt. Recreational Area, near Laconia, N. H. This location offers the varied activities members of the family will find enjoyable during the week end reunion.

Dana Parks, Jr., Salisbury, N. H., who is chairman of the genealogical research presented his plan for maintaining family records, with the eventual purpose of updating the family history. He and his committee, will be available all reunion day, to assist members in their tracing of family history.

Frank Kimball, Harmony, R. I., brought the new forms for membership application, which he had personally prepared. Russell Kimball, Greenville, N. H., was appointed nominating committee chairman.

A message was read from the recording secretary, Mrs. Eunice Kimball of Middletown, Conn., who has been spending the past months in Europe, and who had just visited the Kimballs' ancestor Richard's birthplace in Rattlesden, England.

A discussion was held as to directors responsibility, and also the practice of continuing to have honorary directors (agreed to continue). Present honorary directors are: Thomas Kimball, Executive Director of National and International Wildlife Federation, Washington, D. C.; Dr. Charles N. Kimball, president of Midwest Research Institute, Kansas City, Mo.; Senator Florence B. Reynolds, Omaha, Neb.; Herbert F. Kimball, immediate past president, Rochester, N. H. The Jan. 16 death of 1970-71 president, Robert Kimball, Hampton, N. H., was noted with a silent prayer by the group. He also was an honorary director.

The next meeting of the committee is to be held by invitation of President and Mrs. John Hancock Kimball, at their summer home, Locke Mills, on June 16.

Mrs. Carter announced that the next quarterly Newsletter will soon be out, and urged that all Kimballs, wishing reunion luncheon reservations notify her immediately, since the caterer has to know by May 15th if a minimum as required, have reserved.

Present at this meeting were: President and Mrs. John H. Kimball, Lynnfield, Mass.; Vice-President and Mrs. Russell Kimball, Greenville, N. H.; Treasurer, Mrs. Carlton G. Champe, Rumford Center; Corresponding Secretary and Editor, Mrs. Elizabeth Mason Carter, West Bethel; State Chairman and Mrs. Frank Kimball, Harmony, R. I.; Vermont State Chairman, Mrs. Mildred K. Whitaker, Reading, Vt.; New Hampshire State Chairman and Mrs. Rupert Kimball, Nashua, N. H.; Genealogical Research Chairman, Dana Parks, Jr., Salisbury, N. H., and his committee secretary, Mrs. Charlotte K. Bedard, Athol, Mass., also her two sisters, Mrs. Agnes K. Boutet and Mrs. C. Edna Lyford, of Athol, Mass.; Editor's Assistant, Mrs. Emma K. Hall, Candia, N. H., and Mrs. Mildred K. Felt, former Recording Secretary, Fryburg, who substituted for Mrs. Eunice Kimball. Absent were Vice President, Mrs. Estella K. Martin, Rumford Point, Maine, Editor's Assistant, Mrs. Alton Kimball, Hopkinton, N. H.; Historian, Mrs. Elizabeth K. Watkins, of Manchester, N. H.; Director and Mrs. Herbert E. Kimball, Rochester, N. H., as well as Mrs. Eunice Kimball, Middletown, Conn.

EAST STONEHAM

Gladys Kilgore, Corres. — The Friendly Senior Citizens met at the church vestry in North Waterford Wednesday for a pot luck dinner. It was served in smorgasbord style. Mrs. Violet Doughty and Mrs. Edith Holt were the hostesses. After the business meeting a game party was held. Everyone had a most enjoyable day.

Mrs. Ethel Files was honored on her 82nd birthday Friday, the 13th. She received three birthday cakes; bouquets of flowers, many cards and a pussy willow tree covered with one dollar bills, and several packages of assorted flower seeds.

Ethel keeps busy crocheting and knitting, making all kinds of pretty articles. As she is a great lover of flowers, she has a beautiful flower garden every summer, taking care of it herself. She was joined for dinner by her three daughters and son John and wife. Let's all hope she has many more memorable days just like this one.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Grant visited his grandmother in Gardiner, Sunday.

Dwight Grover received the ham awarded by the K. of P.

Mrs. Ona McAllister is visiting her sister, Merle, in Allston, Mass., this week.

Mrs. Ruby Ingstrom and Mrs. Della Ricker visited Mrs. Mae Hobson, Monday.

Mrs. Carol Davis and two daughters were called home from California.

form on account of her mother's illness. Mrs. Millett had surgery at the Osteopathic Hospital in Portland. Mrs. Davis will remain here for a few weeks.

Carol Barker and son, Durland, went to Kennebunk on business Tuesday.

Mrs. Nancy Barker and Mrs. Vesta Nelson went to Bridgton shopping Wednesday.

Mrs. Vesta Nelson has been visiting Mrs. Walter Heino in Melrose, Mass., for a few days.

Mrs. Della Ricker and Mrs. Mae Hobson went to Bridgton Friday to see a doctor.

I visited Mrs. Etta Ring in Lewell Saturday afternoon. I was amazed at all of the work she does. She was putting a large load of wood into her shed, and she has a good sized garden, which she takes care of herself. She is 87 years young.
